

Congrats to Ted Fort and his partner Steve Ridge on their recent T-1 in the Georgia PGA Club Car Pro-Pro Scramble. Aided by Ted's eagle 3 on the par 5 tenth hole, the team was for the round. Unfortunately for the good guys, they ultimately finished second, losing on the eighth hole of a sudden death playoff. As we say down south, they were "hard dogs to get off the porch".

Ten-under-par

Proud of you, Ted!

One stroke behind the leaders were two other professionals well known to LBGers: Jeff Hull and

Great playing, guys!

ROSWELL, GA – Jim Arendt head PGA professional at Chicopee Woods Golf Course in Gainesville , and Gary Miller from Reynolds Landing Golf Club in Greensboro worked overtime to win the 19th annual Club Car Pro-Pro Scramble presented by Oxford Golf at Berkeley Hills Country Club in Duluth .

Arendt and Miller shot a ten-under par 62 to earn a spot in the playoff against PGA professional Steve Ridge of College Park Municipal Golf Course and PGA teaching professional Ted Fort from the Marietta Golf Center . The playoff went on for eight holes, and finally concluded when Arendt made a three-foot birdie putt on the first hole to give himself and Miller their first title in the Pro-Pro Scramble.

Defending Champions PGA teaching professionals Chris Asbell from the Georgia Golf Center in Roswell and PGA teaching professional Jeff Hull from the University of Georgia Golf Course shot nine-under par 653 to finish in a tie for third place.

The Georgia PGA is one of the 41 Sections of the PGA of America. Its membership includes nearly 850 PGA professionals working at over 265 golf courses, clubs, retail stores, and ranges throughout the state. Additionally, more than 20 Georgia PGA members compete on one of the PGA Tours. In keeping with the fundamental objectives laid down by its founders, one of the Georgia PGA's primary goals is promoting the game of golf through clinics, junior and minority golf programs, consumer programs, and print and television media.
